MUST DO Disneyland Checklists

@kristie.in.the.parks

Hi, I'm Kristie — a Disney-loving mom of three who turned my passion for the parks into a business... because planning other people's Disneyland trips really is my love language.

I love using these checklists in a simple way that keeps our days fun (not overwhelming).

I always keep one copy for myself — but I also print a set for each of my kids. They love checking things off as we go, and it gives them a little ownership over the day. It's also one of my favorite ways to fill those in-between moments — waiting for a parade, sitting down for a meal, or taking a break. Instead of feeling restless, we're talking about what we've done, what we want to do next, and reliving our favorite parts of the day.

The blank pages are just as important. I use those to jot down the things I don't want to forget — snacks we loved, photo spots, little moments, or anything we want to come back to.

This isn't about doing everything.

It's about noticing what actually made your day feel special.

xo Kristie

READY TO TURN YOUR CHECKLIST INTO A REAL PLAN?

You've picked your must-dos — and honestly, that's the step most people skip.

But this is where things usually start to fall apart...

Knowing what you want to do is very different from knowing when to do it.

That's where the stress creeps in:

- long waits at the wrong time
- too much backtracking
- tired kids before the night even starts
- second-guessing every decision

If you want a plan that feels calm, not chaotic...

The Blueprint walks you through exactly how to build your day step-by-step.

Or, if you want more hands-on help,
we can map it out together on a planning call.
